Millsaps Excellence—
A Harmonious Blend of Diverse Individuals

Jackson, Mississippi—the cradle of the Millsaps College community offers the cultural events of the theatre, ballet, and opera, literary giant Eudora Welty, along with the political leaders of the state. Millsaps also benefits Jackson—from housing the ballet competitors to hosting Vice-President George Bush to offering enrichment courses for the entire community.

The two tiny rooms of C.S.'s Restaurant, the favorite "watering hole" for Millsapians, is the link of the college to the outside world. Upon crossing the street and entering the campus, however, one encounters the community of Millsaps College. This community not only consists of Sullivan-Harrell, Murrah, the CC and AC but also of the Union, the dormitories, and athletic fields. Within this tiny area of land between North West and North State Streets are all of the varied facilities needed to classify a place as a community, especially people.

The community of Millsaps College is one that invites creativity—from the creative artisan to the creative scientists. In the summer of 1982 Millsaps hosted the International Ballet competitors, the Opera Festival of the South, Sculpture by the Craftsmen Guild, and the July 4th Crafts Festival and Parade. At a healthy contrast with the creativity of the community is the vital tradition of the college. Opening convocation gives color and festivity and heralds the beginning of yet another year of learning. Tap Day and Awards Day annually reward the students for their gifts to the creative community. Founders' Day and Homecoming continually remind Millsapians of their rich past and encourage them to continue to use their ingenuity for a determined and progressive step into the future.

The tradition and creativity of Millsaps combined to make 1982-83 an academic year of progress. In the fall, the Homecoming football game was regionally televised and carried throughout the South the message of the "ozone endzone": "It could be worse: it could be the SAINTS!" Alumni contributions to the Annual Fund Campaign overreached the goals, and Millsaps was awarded a $300,000 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities for use in the School of Liberal Arts. Changing Times and Good Housekeeping magazines called a Millsaps education a "bargain": Cleanth Brooks visited the campus as the first Endora Welty Professor of Southern Studies; and even as one enters the town of Jackson at the airport, he is reminded that Millsaps is "a cut above."

The high quality and progress of Millsaps can only be maintained, however, by the individuals of the college. The personalities, beliefs, and ideals represented in the community are many and varied. Whether pursuits are toward analytical chemistry, advanced accounting, Kierkegaard, or Faulkner, the vitality of the college rests on the ability of each student to select his niche and pursue excellence through his unique mode of expression.

As each student selects his field, Millsaps College succeeds continually in helping to offer concrete alternatives and directions for the future. The individuals met here also each contribute to a student's preparations. In four years one receives the gifts of exposure to great knowledge and an energy for learning, opportunities for career options, and treasured friendships, all of which culminate as the excellence of Millsaps.

When is a Man Educated?

When he can look out upon the universe, now lucid and lovely, now dark and terrible, with a sense of his own littleness in the great scheme of things, and yet have faith and courage. When he knows how to make friends and keep them, and above all, when he can keep friends with himself. When he can be happy and highminded amid the drudgeries of life. When he can look into a wayside puddle and see something besides mud, and into the face of the most forlorn mortal and see something divine. When he knows how to live, how to love, how to hope, how to pray—is glad to live . . . and has in his heart a bit of a song.

Millsaps Students— Unique but United

At Millsaps College, students are known by names, not numbers. And the students seem to grasp every opportunity to "stand out from the crowd." Although social conformity does exist somewhat, the majority of students establish their individuality, not by showing off, but by answering an internal need to find their own identity. Perhaps this stems from the intense academic pressure or from exposure to ideas never challenged in high school. But the result is clearly positive: a unique blend of emerging personalities.

For new students, the first week of school is indeed an orientation; they must quickly form a newfound independence and throw themselves into a completely new environment filled with strange faces and events. One of these events is RUSH—an anxiety filled process which for many fills a gap left when high school friends disperse. Also during this week are the lines—endless cards to sign and bills to pay. For returning students, this week can be one of drudgery, one filled with technicalities before the process of the school year can be begun. But it is also one of rejuvenation—one of reunions with friends and a freshened perspective gained when viewing the youth and enthusiasm of the spirited Freshman class.

The First Week: An Orientation and a Rejuvenation

The Completion of the College Experience—Dormitory Living

Another experience exclusive to college years is the communal living of the dormitory. All of a sudden, one is expected to make their own bed, clean their own room, and wash their own clothes, and sometimes to adjust to college life with a stranger as a roommate. This year the Freshmen experienced a crowding problem. Some were forced to live in the ironing rooms but used their creativity to design a truly "decorated" room. Others chose to surmount the housing shortage by building lofts in their rooms. There is also an adjustment to a lack of privacy to be made—for example, hall telephones. A neat room is the key to some students' peace in the dorm, while for others, neatness seems to have been overlooked. Nevertheless, dormitory living is the supreme test for college survival.

Mealtime and Social Hour

Although the adjustment from homecooked meals three times a day to Acy's call in the grill or the mystery meat in the cafeteria can be a difficult one, mealtime at Millsaps is a time for relaxing and visiting with friends during a hectic, test filled week. The cafeteria is a meeting place and a place for finding that someone one has needed to see but can never seem to find. The grill is the escape from the questionable menu at times in the cafeteria. It is also the loitering place between classes or the place for last minute cramming before tests while hurriedly swallowing some food. Although the cuisine may at times not be gourmet, the atmosphere and availability of the two restaurants of Millsaps are their successes.

The Infamous GPA—Our Only Purpose?

Soon the reunions and festivities of the first few weeks give way to the side of college life we sometimes don't take quite seriously enough but seems to hold our future in its hands—academics. We begin to realize that we came here to learn, and soon the pressure of the GPA begins to mount. The closer one gets to his senior year and actual job or graduate school interviews, the more one begins to analyze his GPA and how one test can affect it. Is that the only proof of what we have learned, the only sign of knowledge gained? Sometimes the answer is not clear, and keeping learning and grades in their proper perspectives is at times most difficult.

Making their Mark and Following the Fads

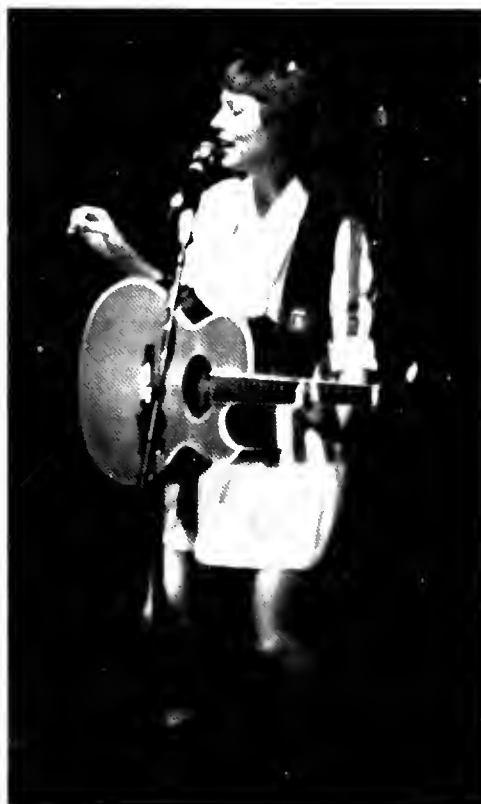

Millsaps students not only follow the trends of the crowd, but they accomplish goals so that they stand apart from the crowd. There are students receiving their black belts in karate, establishing their own radio stations, and literally making new paths across the campus. Also at Millsaps are students who keep up every step with the world outside of Millsaps, especially the fashion world, from mini skirts to the starched (but sometimes sloppy) preppy look.

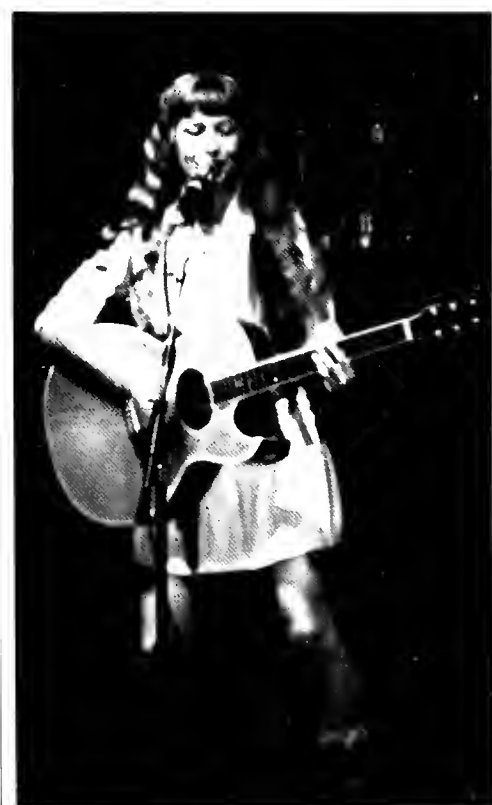

P. 26, Top left: Mary Weir and Stephanie Pella exhibit the preppy fad of Polo and add-a-beads and bows; Top right: Tana Browning models the newest fad: the mini-skirt; Bottom left: Linda Pape receives her black belt in karate; Bottom right: Andrew Sessions and Jim Irby choose the sloppy prep look. Page 27, Top: David Leggett's followers rest on his newly blazed trail; and Bottom: Millsaps has its own radio station!

Events Unite and Divide Students

Certain events throughout the academic year at Millsaps provide relief from studying and a chance to find common interests with fellow students as well as unique interests. From the KA cannon to the ozone endzone, football games provide recreation for almost all types of students. Events in the bowl such as the Black History Week step-down or bands sponsored by the SEB also give students a chance to enjoy each other's company. There are certain events, however, that cause the "healthy tension" on campus. One such event this year was the Juice Newton concert. Many students felt that the money spent on the concert could have been used more wisely, but it was indeed an event causing further interaction among students.

Further Interaction— “The Dating Game”

As social interaction moves from chatting in the bowl at noon to school or fraternity parties at night, the social custom of dating begins to occur. Whether two people find common interests in the classroom or at other activities, finding time, money, and interesting outings becomes a major threat to this pastime; but somehow “The Dating Game” constantly continues to thrive.

The "family" aspect of Millsaps College is seen not only in the kinship formed among students but also in the guidance and mutual respect characteristic of the professor/student relationships found on campus. As students move from the sheltered life of high school to facing his/her professional future alone, the encouragement and guidance given to students by the faculty and administrative staff is most valuable. Also the necessity to relate to peers everywhere—from classroom to mealtime to the dormitory—provides an atmosphere conducive to not only happy memories of these four years, but also lasting ties for long friendships.

Resident Assistants

Resident Assistants are chosen by the Office of Student Affairs after candidates have interviewed with a committee. The Resident Assistants for the 1982-83 year were (above) Stephanie Durow, Carrie Arnold, Missy Nevins, Chrissie Clark, Nancy Rhea, Keri Slaton, and Debbie Jordan. Not Pictured: Gwen Clopton, Paula West, Lisa Catledge, Denise Heaman, Sheila Moran. Male R.A.'s included (right) Bil Hetrick, Peter Langworthy, Wade Young, Paul Ogden, and Scott Bowie. Not pictured: David Biggers, John May, Kimble Scott, Pat Hare, Daryl McLeod, and John Perry.

Andy Brown, Sandy Frazier, and Andrei Howse (not pictured) were chosen to be co-chairmen of the Freshmen Orientation this fall. Their duties included organizing the peer advising system, planning orientation week assemblies, and advising new students. The part that this committee plays in the new students' first experiences is an active and important one in creating a welcome atmosphere for Freshmen and transfer students.

Orientation Chairmen

Peer advisers also play an important role throughout the year for Freshman students in the roles of adviser, friend, and counselor. Each faculty adviser has two peer advisers to help them most completely fulfill the needs of Freshmen. Serving as peer advisers for the 1982-83 academic year were (bottom row) Helen Gillaspy, Lori Trigg, Rakesh Mangel, and Jack Denver; (Middle row) Lisa McGee, Inger Wray, Anita Addington, Betsy Bradley, Lisa Hapgood, Grace Nevins, and Puddin Collins; (top row) Ken Lancaster, Cordelia Douzenis, Jay Garrett, John Holland, Tom Moore, Don Keenan, Wade Young, Paul Ogden, Greg Sliman, and Mark Mitchell.

"The Millsaps Music Department seeks to serve not only the music major and minor but also the general Millsaps student. Besides study in the areas of piano, voice, organ, and the orchestral instruments, musical experiences are available in the various ensembles such as the Singers and Troubadors. Recitals given by faculty, students, guests artists, and chamber music groups are continuous throughout the year. The Music Department endeavors to create an exciting and educational musical climate for the Millsaps student and the entire community."

“When I consider how many of the world’s greatest minds—Sophocles, Aristophanes, Goethe, Moliere, Shaw—have clothed their ideas in the dramatic form; when I consider how the theatre has cut through barriers of national, religious, and racial prejudice; when I consider the employment, and the enlightenment it has brought into the lives of countless millions down through the ages—I become very proud of my profession.”

"The primary jolt of an English department is to teach people how to read and write. The definition is as simple as that. But doing it is as difficult as it is important. Nearly everyone gives lip service to the need for people to express their thoughts and feelings accurately, clearly, and even gracefully. Equal assent is given to the need to understand what another person has put into words. But lip service is not enough.

Writing well does not come to most of us as something as natural as breathing. Nor does reading well. Both are acquired arts. They are also interlocking arts: good writing rests largely on good reading. But in our modern world of the telephone and the television set, people read less and less and they write hardly at all. The New York Times, in its annual reports, indicates an almost steady decline in literacy for the last ten years. None acquainted with the present state of American education should be surprised."

A native of Murray, Kentucky, Cleanth Brooks received his B.A. degree from Vanderbilt University in 1928 and his M.S. degree from Tulane University in 1929. He attended Oxford University in England as a Rhodes Scholar from 1929 to 1932 and was awarded the B.A. degree with Honors and the B.Litt. degree.

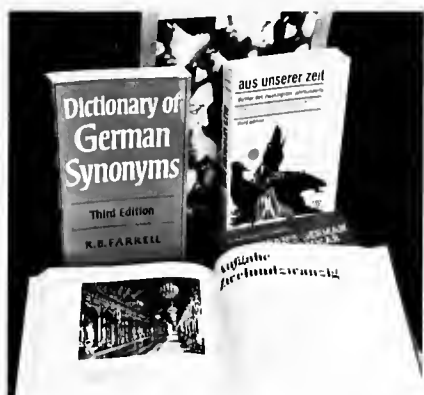

After teaching at several major universities across the country, he became a member of the Yale faculty in 1947 as Professor of English and became the first incumbent of the Gray Professorship of Rhetoric in 1961. From 1964 until 1966, he was on leave from Yale to serve as Cultural Attache in the American Embassy in London. He retired from the Yale faculty in 1975.

Professor Brooks is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the Modern Language Association, and the English Institute. He has served as a Fellow of the Library of Congress. He holds membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Committee for the International Exchange of Persons, the National Institute of Arts and Letters, and the American Philosophical Society.

Awards and degrees honoring him include two Guggenheim Fellowships, and L.H.D. (Doctor of Humane Letters) from St. Louis University, a D.Litt. (Doctor of Letters) from Tulane University, and L.H.D. from Cetenary College, a D.Litt. from the University of the South and the J.B. Hubbell Medal of the Modern Language Association.

Two of his most highly regarded studies have been William Faulkner: The Yoknapatowpha Country and William Faulkner: Toward Yoknapatawpha and Beyond. In collaboration with Robert Penn Warren he published a number of popular college texts, including Understanding Poetry, which profoundly influenced the ways in which literature is taught in American colleges and schools. In the Spring of 1983, Millsaps was fortunate to have Dr. Brooks as the first Eudora Welty Professor of Southern Studies.

"Religion is a basic human attitude and activity. In academic study we use every available tool to understand.

By studying others, we can hope to reduce the mountain of hatred and prejudice and misunderstanding that burdens history and our life together on this small planet.

THE INVOLVED

Student Executive Board

1982 Officers:

President: Billy Wheeler
1st Vice Pres.: John Buckler
2nd Vice Pres.: Andy Brown
Secretary: Brad Cooper
Treasurer: Denise Heaman

S.E.B. officers of the student senate are elected at large from the Millsaps Student Association. The officers serve a term beginning and ending on February 1. They serve as the executive branch of the Student Association and oversee all activities of the Student Senate.

1983 Officers:

President: Billy Wheeler
1st Vice Pres.: John Buckler
2nd Vice Pres.: Tom Moore
Secretary: Jynnifer Jemison
Treasurer: Debbie Jordan

Student Senate

The Student Senate is composed of not more than 20 voting members elected from the Millsaps Student Association. Representatives are chosen by petition. The duties and functions of the Senate according to the Constitution are "to exercise legislative and executive power over those non-academic areas of collegiate activity that are in most instances the responsibility of the students."

Judicial Council

The Judicial Council is composed of three ex-officio advisors and seven appointed members. They are nominated by a special committee of the Student Senate and are confirmed by the Senate. The Judicial Council has jurisdiction generally over all student disciplinary cases and its decisions are appealable to the president of the college.

Senate in Action

The Student Senate had a very active year, one that brought many changes in student government. Among the new developments are an increase in the budget, a Bill of Rights for the Constitution, the addition of students to the Board of Trustees, reorganization of the Senate districts and representation, the Jackson Intercollegiate Metropolitan Council, the purchase of a lasar disk movie projector, more S.E.B. parties, and the Juice Newton concert.

Open by audition to all students, the Singers represent Millsaps in public performances, campus programs, annual tours throughout the state, and to other areas of our United States. In recent years the choir has traveled to Colorado; to Washington, D.C.; to Atlanta, to record for the National Protestant Hour; and to Mexico. The choir has sung with the Memphis Symphony Orchestra three times, the Jackson Symphony many times, the Chicago Chamber Orchestra, and the New Orleans Philharmonic.

The Millsaps Troubadors

Directed by William
Carroll

Auditions are held each fall for membership in the Troubadors, a show choir of fourteen students selected from the Singers. The Troubadors represent the college at various campus, high school, and cultural functions throughout the state. The 1982-83 season included a Spring Concert celebrating the twentieth anniversary of this outstanding group.

Alpha Eta Sigma

Officers:

Terrell Ann Brocato—President
Lou Ann Campbell—Vice President
Leslie Gowdy—Secretary
Nancy Bagby—Treasurer
Dr. Sue Y. Whitt—Faculty Sponsor

Alpha Eta Sigma is a scholastic and professional accounting fraternity with the following objectives: Promotion of the study and practice of accounting; provision of opportunities for self-development and association among members and practicing accountants; and encouragement of a sense of ethical, social, and public responsibility.

THE MOMENTS

Chi Omega Song Fest

The annual Chi Omega Song Fest was held on March 3, 1983 in the Christian Center auditorium. The Phi Mu's (top left) captured first prize with "Steppin' Out with My Baby" and "Blue Skies" directed by Carrie Arnold. The Kappa Delta's won second prize by singing "The Water is Wide" and "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" (far left). They were directed by Suzannah Bowie. Jay Garrett directed the men of Lambda Chi Alpha (above) while they sang "Scarborough Fair/Canticle" and "Give My Regards to Broadway." The Kappa Alpha's, directed by Joe McCall sang "Medley" and "The Jet Song;" and the Chi Omega's sang "The Summer's Eyes are Blue" and "Gloria in Excelsis" and were directed by Betsy Ellis. The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity did not participate this year, nor did the Kappa Sigma's, who claimed they were victims of prior censorship. Dr. Ross Moore (left) was the delightful emcee of this program.

1982 Fall Symposium

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT: PUNISHMENT FOR CRIME OR CRIME AS PUNISHMENT ?

The purpose of the Fall Symposium was to raise the consciousness of the Millsaps and Jackson community to the issue of Capital Punishment in our society so that they could make intelligent decisions as to their opinion on the issue. The symposium was sponsored by an SEB committee chaired by Jynnifer Jemison. The aspects covered were "Capital Punishment in the Spirit of the American Law;" "Capital Punishment and Society;" "Capital Punishment in the Judeo-Christian Tradition;" and "Capital Punishment: Punishment for Crime or Crime for Punishment?" Speakers included Millard Farmer, director of Team Defense and Ed Peters, Hinds County District Attorney (above). Dr. Robert Bergmark (right), Millsaps faculty member, moderated the seminar on the role of Capital Punishment in the Judeo-Christian society. Other speakers included Earl Charles, a death row inmate; Hans Zeisel, professor of law and sociology at the University of Chicago; and Ramsey Clark, former U.S. Attorney General.

The Millsaps Student Body was fortunate to be host of various political speakers throughout the year and therefore remained an active part of the state and nation's status of current affairs. SEB brought to campus Mississippi's Attorney General, Bill Allain (above) to speak on utility rate hikes, legislators on executive committees, and white-collar crime in Mississippi. The SEB also sponsored a debate between the candidates for Mississippi's fourth U.S. Congressional District. Candidates included Eddie McBride (upper right), Independent; Liles Williams (right), Republican; and Wayne Dowdy (P. 143, bottom), Democrat. Also, on April 12, 1983, U.S. Vice-President George Bush (P. 143, Top) spoke to the Millsaps community in the Christian Center.

Speakers

Millsaps Singers Concerts

The Singers had two major concerts on campus this year. The Christmas concert included parts of the Messiah and the Spring concert was Elijah. The Singers went on tour over Spring Break and performed at such campus events as Awards Day, opening convocation, and Baccalaureate services.

Troubadours Reunion

The spring concert of the Millsaps Troubadours this year honored the twentieth anniversary of the group. Along with an outstanding performance by the current Troubs, the audience was delighted with a group of Troubadour alumni who rejoined to sing a Reunion Medley. The program included "One" by Marvin Hamlisch; a medley of tunes from the movies of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers; selections from Camelot; selections from Fannie; soliloquy from Robert and Elizabeth; a Stephen Sondheim medley; and the Reunion medley. The group is directed by William P. Carroll. Photos by Pat Lanclos.

"A brand of football played every weekend, but rarely televised. These words were spoken by one of the CBS correspondents who covered the Millsaps Homecoming game on October 3, 1982. Due to the Professional Football strike, Millsaps was contacted and asked if they would fill the empty television slot on Sunday. Due to financial and publicity benefits, the game was moved to Sunday, but all other festivities remained as scheduled. On Friday, the band "Fresh" entertained in the bowl, and the Class of 1933 had a reunion in the Rogers Room. There was also a Tennis Players Reunion that evening. On Saturday, events included a tennis tournament, Dedication of the J. B. Cain Archives, and exhibit of Major Craftsmen, tours of the campus, spirit and sign competition in the Bowl, the Millsaps slide show, a picnic, Fraternity and Sorority open houses, and an alumni reception at the home of the President. The evening was capped with the Homecoming Dance, Young Alumni Party, and a Founders Hall Ball. The weekend concluded with the game against West Georgia on Sunday and the crowning of the Queen at halftime.

Black History Week

In February, 1983, the Black Student Association of Millsaps College sponsored Black History Week. It began with a Gospel Songfest in the Recital Hall (below). On Sunday, a chapel service was held in the Christian Center. "A Raisin in the Sun" was shown on Tuesday and was followed with a reception in the Faculty House. On Thursday, a panel discussion was held — "Black Students in a Predominantly White College," and the panel consisted of former and present Millsaps Students (right). Friday Forum concerned "The Fifteenth Amendment: An Instrument for Change," and was followed by a talent show and the annual Greek Step-Down on Saturday (below right). The week concluded with a banquet and ball in the Holiday Inn Downtown, where Henry Kirksey spoke.

Greek Week

The first week of April, 1983 was designated as Greek Week by Millsaps Panhellenic IFC. The purpose of this week was to enhance sorority, fraternity relations and also to promote an understanding between the Greeks and non-Greeks. Each day in the Union, posters were displayed by each of the sororities and fraternities showing one facet of their organization. Events of the week included an ice cream social, a band in the cafeteria, a blood drive (right), and a "Dress for Success" fashion show. Models included (left to right) Patti Rischel, Mrs. "G", and Evelyn Stewart. Due to bad weather, an afternoon of entertainment on the football field had to be cancelled.

Elizabethan Faire

The Elizabethan Faire was held in the bowl on April 16, 1983. The court consisted of (top left) Ladies-in-Waiting, Missy Maggio and Betsy Bradley; Queen Elizabeth, Kim Cranston; and Archbishop of Canterbury Mikell Jarratt. Before and after the crowning of the Queen by the Archbishop, entertainment was provided by the Society of Creative Anachronisms. Students also participated by setting up booths selling cookies and T-shirts.

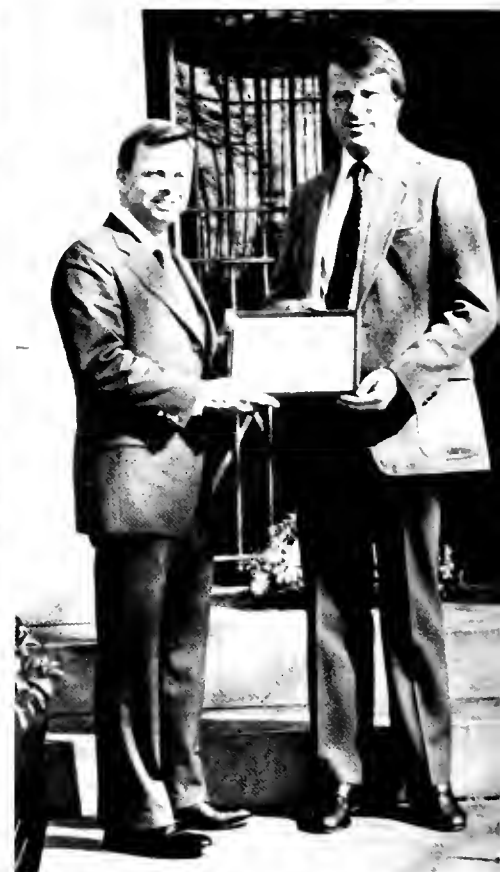

Student/Faculty Talent Show

Chaplain Don Fortenberry was honored on January 16, 1983 with a welcome back talent show after his unfortunate illness. Students and faculty members combined their efforts to show their appreciation and concern for all of his efforts on campus throughout his career at Millsaps. Dr. Charles Sallis (upper left) emceed the program, while Dr. T.W. Lewis (top center) did a thrilling juggling act. Suzannah Bowie and Doug Walker (Upper right) sang "I'll See You Again;" and Margie Canada and Harrylyn Sallis (center) provided a delightful slapstick act while singing "Side by Side." Another thrill was the Air Band (bottom) including Sean Peenstra, Marion Lyons, Doug Manley, and Perry Key. Other acts included a dance exercise by Sister Annette; "Jesus Christ Loves Rock and Roll" performed by Cathy Wells, Janice Streetman, and Sister Annette; and a special performance by the Troubadours.

Founders' Day 1983

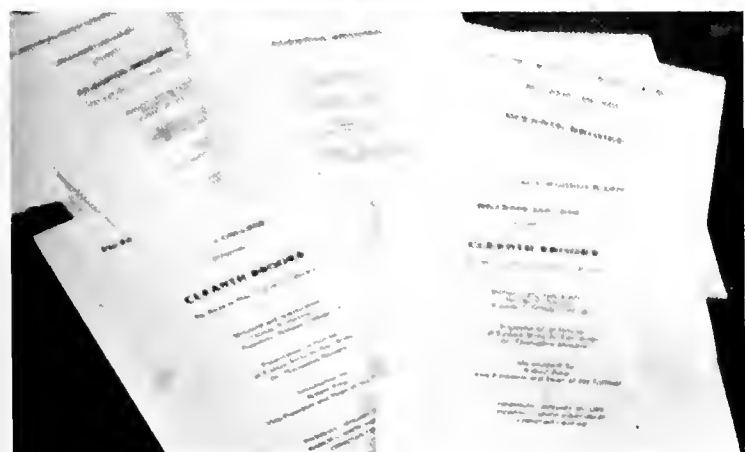

History Department Honored

1983 marked the 150th birthday of Major Millsaps, and Millsaps celebrated Founders' Day by honoring the History Department of the College. The weekend of February 18th and 19th began with a Friday Forum entitled "In Search of the Historical Millsaps." Dr. Ross Moore (right) introduced the speaker (above, center) Ron A. Goodbread, a Millsaps alumnus who is an attorney in Washington, D.C. Later that afternoon the History Department Faculty and Alumni were honored with an Open House. On Saturday morning, a symposium was held concerning "History in the Real World" and was followed by a luncheon, where Dr. Robert McElvaine was awarded the 1983 Distinguished Professor (above left). The day concluded with a ceremony at Major Millsaps tomb (above right) and the opening of an art exhibit featuring works of Millsaps faculty. Alumni were also invited to attend A Midsummer Night's Dream which the Millsaps Players were producing at the time.

1982-83 Arts and Lecture Series

The Arts and Lecture Series began this year with a lecture given by Mr. John Housman, one of the most influential figures in the American theatre, radio, and television. He is the author of Run-Through, an autobiography, and the recipient of an Oscar for his role in The Paper Chase. He also spoke to theatre majors the next morning (center). The series also included a lecture by Paul Craig Roberts (upper left), Former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury for Economic Affairs. The Spring semester included a lecture by our visiting professor, Mr. Cleanth Brooks, a leading scholar in the literary world. This was followed by a reproduction of the 1940's Radio Hour which included 30 musical numbers backed by a big band orchestra. An Evening with Beth Henley (above) concluded the season. Miss Henley is a native Jacksonian and the winner of a Pulitzer Prize for her Broadway hit Crimes of the Heart. She read various passages from her works.

Millsaps' Own . . .

"THE BOWL"

When describing a Millsaps activity as occurring in "The Bowl," a non-Millsapian may have dubious thoughts. But to anyone who has ever been associated with our college, "The Bowl" brings to mind memories of numerous meal time gatherings; beautiful spring and fall afternoons of "studying;" Homecoming, Elizabethan Faire, and numerous picnic activities; entertainment by popular bands; the "Sig bench" and the Tree; deep talks on one of the benches; and quiet, solitary moments of introspective thought. In this multi-purpose grassy area are seen the back-to-school picnic and commencement exercises. To this area we owe gratitude for a multitude of vibrant, gleeful times as well as quiet, meaningful ones—a diversity exemplified by the Millsaps population.

(Top right) Lynn Loflin and Beth Bland engaged in conversation under the tree on a quiet afternoon; (Right) Warm August weather enticed students from studying to enjoy passing a football; (Left center) The Bowl was the center of 1982 Homecoming activities; (Right center) and it was also used for faculty and parent reception on the first day of school; (Bottom left) one of many post-meal social activities included M. SEB Sponsored Activities

SEB Activities

Other SEB sponsored activities this year included (right) a dance at the Pike house co-sponsored by BACCHUS where non-alcoholic beverages were served along with beer. A DUI unit of the Jackson Police Department was present to give the Intoxilyzer test to students before they drove home. This was part of the Campus Alcohol Awareness Program. SEB also brought various bands to the Bowl and cafeteria at meal times for entertainment (below). SEB also brought various speakers such as Bill Allain (Attorney General of MS) and sponsored the Wayne Dowdy/Liles Williams debate. SEB conducts all campus elections and is in charge of the symposium and Elizabethan Faire committees.

1983 Commencement Exercises

The speaker at the 1983 exercises was the Honorable Governor William Winter (lower left). As relatives joined the graduates (Hilda White, lower center), President George Harmon extended congratulations to the graduates as he gave them their diplomas on stage. The entire faculty also donned their academic robes and joined in the festivities (above). While waiting in line to process, the "B's" show their enthusiasm (Top left): Anna Bennett, David Biggers, Scott Bowie, Peter Bernheim, and Scott Bauer.

"Our pre-season goal was to break even in our second varsity season. We achieved this goal finishing the season 11-9-1. We were especially pleased with victories over Southwestern (3-2 at home and 4-3 in OT at SAM) and Nicholls State (2-1 there). These were teams that had beaten us decidedly a year ago.

"We are a young team. At season's end we were starting 1 senior, 1 junior, 5 sophomores, and 4 freshmen. We feel we are building for the future.

"Outstanding performance of the year were turned in by Freshman winger E.J. Croal who led the team in scoring; Sophomore Sean Peenstra who led in assists; Sophomore B.A. Holman whose all-around solid play held down midfield for us; Junior Alan Vestal, team captain, a team leader at stopper; and Senior sweeper Fred Duggan whose great mental attitude was a steadying factor for our young team.

"I am excited at the rapid improvement of our players and the way in which we improved as a team. I feel that as our young players mature we will continue to develop and strengthen our program."

"The 1982 Millsaps Major football season was one of tremendous achievement on the part of everyone connected with the team and most especially on the part of the players. At one stage in the season, when the Majors were sitting 2-3, the players bowed their neck, worked as hard or harder than any previous Millsaps team, and won the rest of our games against formidable opposition.

"The 1982 football team was a new one. Only 12 members from the experienced 1981 team returned for the 1982 season.

Coach Ranager and myself were faced with new players at almost every position. Fortunately, we had good athletes to coach and players that were willing to put a great deal of extra effort into achieving a strong winning season.

"1982 was a 'show biz' season for the football Majors. We were on television more than former Millsaps alumnus Johnny Carson and definitely more than any other football team in Mississippi. CBS did a regional broadcast of our game with West Georgia and the net work sent in the first team to handle the production and the broadcast. It was first class in every respect.

Following this, Knoxville station WBIR-10 did a local on a very exciting game with Maryville that the Majors won 29-14. This game was seen in Eastern Tennessee, part of Virginia, and North and South Carolina. The Majors really became veterans of TV when St. Louis and its powerful Westinghouse Cable outlet telecast our game with Washington University. "Meet Me In St. Louis" became a theme as many Major fans chose to travel to this game and saw a well played game on the part of Millsaps ending up in a 21-0 win.

"In National NCAA Division III statistics, a statistic in itself in that the Majors are making a habit of being ranked in this category each year, the team finished th in pass defense and 20th in total defense. Robert Lenoir, with outstanding blocking from a much improved offensive line, finished 12th in rushing statistics with 1,028 total yards and 8th in scoring with 96 points. Both of these productions are school records for a football Major.

"The team, the coaches, the managers, the cameraman, the statistician, the trainer, the cheerleaders, and everyone interested in the team and even remotely connected with the program can look back on this season with PRIDE. The players can look from within and know what was accomplished. As one player described to me, 'What we did this year and how far we came to do it is the greatest 'high' of my career.' "

"The 1982-83 basketball season was one of improvement for the Majors as they posted a record of nine wins and 16 losses, the best record for Millsaps since 1972-73. The Majors, crippled by a rash of early season injuries, got off to a slow start, winning only two of their first ten games. However, they recovered in the second half to win seven of their last fifteen outings.

"Millsaps finished second in two tournaments, the Millsaps Dr. Pepper Classic and the Trinity University Invitational Tournament. In the Trinity tourney Millsaps was seen locally on San Antonio's sports cable channel for both contests. My troops played two of their best games of the season out west and placed senior forward Pat Hare and freshman center Billy Waits on the all-tournament team.

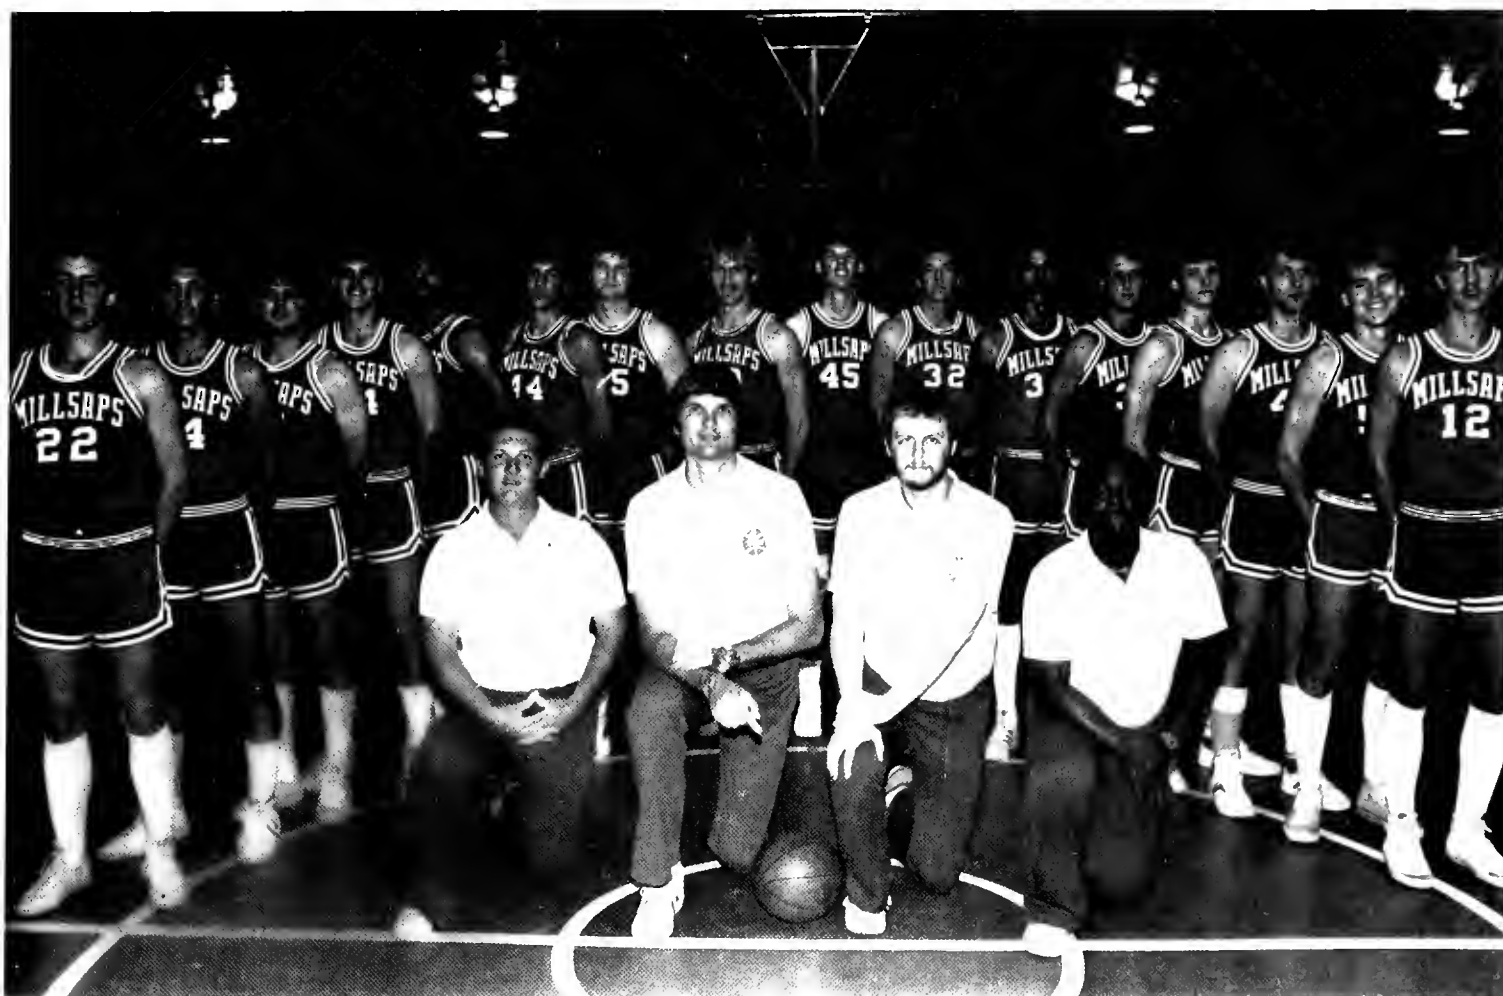

"Waits finished his first season in a Millsaps uniform as the top scorer (12.0 ppg) and rebounder (8.4 rpg); and Hare, team MVP, was ranked second on the team behind Waits in both categories. Point guard Roger Garret finished as the team leader in assists, and team captain Dean Swindle led the team in free throw percentage. Hare also finished first in field goal percentage.

"Hare, Swindle, and Kerry Goss, the most improved award winner, will be most improved award winner, will be missed next season; but with ten players returning and the addition of transfer Kevin Russell from Ole Miss, the prospects of a winning program are coming closer to a reality."

Strong Desire and Hard Work

"This has been a season of vast improvement. Our team started the year with five straight losses; after Christmas break, we came back to school a new team. A group of girls wanted to play together as a team, with a strong desire to play to the best of their ability; and they did not mind a lot of hard work. As a result, they turned the program around finishing 9-7 making our years record 9-12. The Lady Majors are looking forward to the 1983-84 season; we hope to start the year the way we ended last season, winning our last three games."

Cheering for the Majors

"The 1983 Baseball Team is a team that has been enjoyable to work with. We have had good senior leadership throughout the entire season from our four year starters: Steve Hull, David Cooper, Dewey Gilbert, and Tim Gill. This is very important.

"The 1983 schedule is the toughest schedule we have played in the last ten years. We have played three NCAA Division I schools and two Division II schools."

Coach Tommy Ranager

Potential and Ladies of Teamwork

"Half veteran and half newcomers, the 1983 women's tennis team produced a solid 14-5 record against tough competition. Named the #4 team in the NCAA South Region, the Millsaps women return Nanette Thomas Huff and Puddin Collins to the NCAA Division III National Championships at Claremont, CA. Both women were NCAA Division III Coaches' All Americans in 1982. The 1983 record was the result of good teamwork and hard play by every member of the squad."

Coach James A. Montgomery
Most Valuable Player—Nanette Huff
Most Improved Player—Stephanie Pella
Captain (1984)—Puddin Collins

Coach Jim Montgomery was the Runner-up for NCAA Division III Tennis' Coach of the Year award in 1982 and was nominated again for the award in 1983

"The 1983 men's tennis team was inexperienced, too much so for the tough schedule normal for Millsaps; inexperienced, but not without talent or potential. With the final record we had (8-15) I could have been disappointed as well as frustrated if I thought at any time we weren't playing as well as we could. I wasn't disappointed and the men survived and we will be the tougher and better for it in 1984."

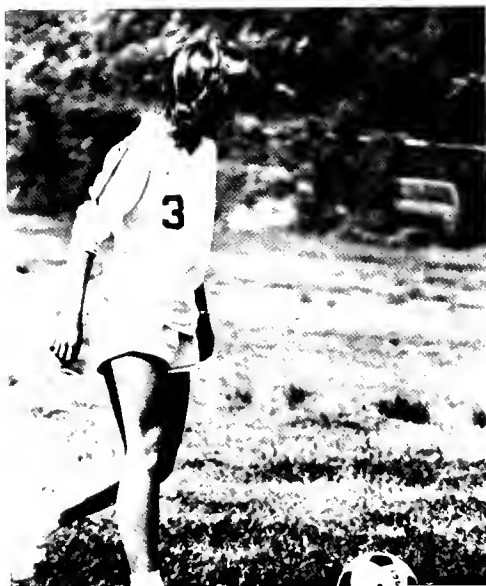

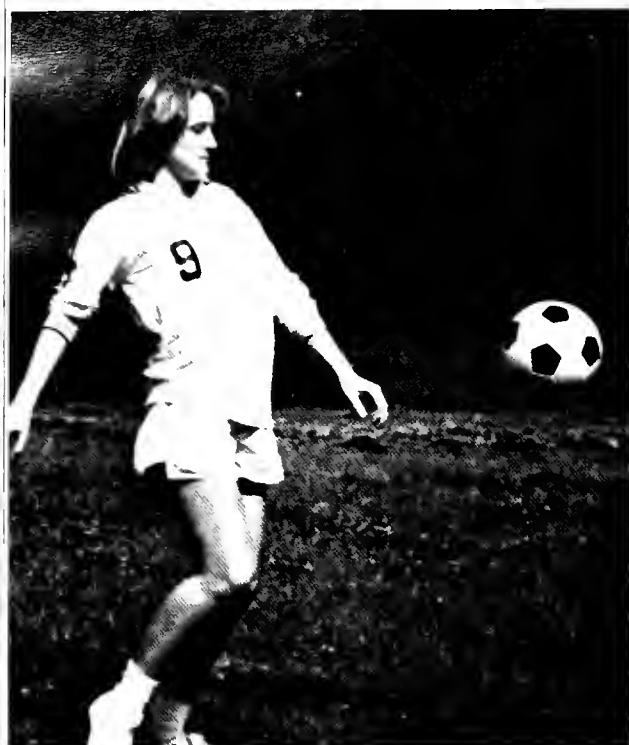

Coach Jim Montgomery

Girls' Interschool Soccer

A first this year was the Girls' Interschool Soccer Team. It was sponsored by George Gober and consisted of girls who were interested in devoting part of their time to sports on a varsity level. The team consisted of Sonja Stacy, Mary Woodward, Dana Doyle, Lynn Loflin, Lisa Catledge, and several others. The team competed with various colleges in the spring, including Belhaven and Hinds Jr. College.

Intramural Sports

The Intramural Sports Program at Millsaps is one that involves a large percentage of the community—student and faculty. Independents team with Greeks; students with faculty to promote fellowship and even very exciting competition. Men compete with soccer, tennis, volleyball, basketball, and softball. Women also play soccer, tennis, basketball, softball, volleyball, and flag football. In the spring the intramural program sponsored a cross country run. The program has become a very organized and effective program under the leadership of George Gober.

THE STRIVERS

Freshmen Fears

Much "growing up" is experienced during the Freshman year at college—finally on his own for the first time in one's life. As exciting as this is, going off to college can cause plenty of anxiety and raise many questions:

- Can one survive with the roommate assigned to him?
- Can the horrors of Rush be survived?
- Can clothes survive first attempts at laundering and continue to be wearable?
- Can one adjust to cafeteria meals including chili-mac surprise casserole and multi-colored jello with whipped cream, a cherry, a nut, and chopped something on it?

There are doubts at times, but there are sophomores, juniors, and seniors walking around as proof that the battle can be won!

Sophomore Slump?

In many ways this is not a terrific year . . . The smallness of this school begins to be realized . . . One becomes tired as the newness of everything has worn off . . . It's easy to fall behind, let grades fall, feeling so far from the end . . . There is also a "let-down" after being the center of attention as a Freshman . . . Teachers begin to expect more . . . Upper classmen don't protect sophomores as they do Freshmen . . . And all the guys ask out the Freshmen girls . . . leaving one facet of the year as NOT a slump for them!!

Junior Jitters

All of a sudden, the first two years are gone! It's time to buckle down and study . . . The realization hits that grades really do go on transcripts . . . The GPA must come up . . . The real world truly is "just around the corner" . . . The time has come to begin making plans— graduate school, work, or a year with Mom and Dad to "find yourself?" . . . It is also a year of transitions— while some friendships become stronger, some dwindle and new ones develop . . . One begins to try to fit in all opportunities not yet seized— either classes, social life, or activities . . . The Junior year is much like the middle of the week: the initial rough spots are past, the weekend is in the future, and the constant question lingers—

Are we prepared?

Senior Success

For some, their Senior year is filled with exciting anticipation of being out on one's own; for most, however, it is a year of apprehension. The realization occurs that the knowledge obtained during the last four years must actually be used. The grades are merely a record; the true test is the knowledge gained. A fear arises at the thought of leaving the secure nest at Millsaps and using what has been learned instead of writing it down for a grade. And then there are COMPS, GRE, resumes, and interviews. But there is success. All anxieties seem trivial as any senior has that special day at his P.O. box. The letter arrives announcing the rewards—whether it is a job, medical school, law school, or graduate school. The reality strikes—there is life after Millsaps full of opportunities, promising advancements, and people. And all will be eager to receive that Millsaps graduate, full of confidence, aware of and appreciative of his preparation by his "dear ole Alma Mater."

 Younger, Elaine, 115, 124, 200

The 1983 Bobasheba was published by the Herff-Jones Company at their Montgomery plant. It consists of 16 pages of Ermine Special paper in Gray CX-12 and 208 pages of Bordeaux Special 80 lb. white paper. Type used through the book is Souvenir Light and Souvenir Bold Emphasis type. Endsheets are Vibra-color Gray Ex-12, and the cover is Antique Blue crush grain #41079 with Light Gray #24 applied ink. Special thanks go to Mr. J.C. Anthony, our Herff-Jones representative from R.M. Hendricks Graduate Supply House.

I vowed that I would not close with the typical statements of exhaustion of sleepless nights spent trying to meet deadlines and countless thanks to people who have listened to gripes and complaints. I cannot, however, send off this final shipment and contemplate the entire experience of putting out this book without conveying my deepest gratitude to the faculty, administration, and especially fellow students who have cooperated so readily with the production of this book. Also, to the ones who did listen to incessant nervous speculations and continued to offer encouragement I am truly grateful.

I hope that in this volume of the Bobashela I have portrayed an accurate picture of the Millsaps experience as it is seen by the student body. This experience is unique to each individual, but the spirit of these four brief years is one of a unique nature. Each experience of these four years is now a permanent part of our nature, and they are but a brief span of the scope of our entire experience. I think that Alfred, Lord Tennyson captured this in his poem Ulysses:

I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch wherethrough
Gleams that untraveled world whose margin fades
Forever and forever when I move . . .
And this gray spirit yearning in desire
To follow knowledge like a sinking star,
Beyond the utmost bound of human thought.

I hope that when you pull this dusty album off the shelf in twenty years or so for a night of nostalgia, we can all remember these four years with gratitude for exposure to excellence.
